Casework

We are working on a large number of individual cases at the moment. I care passionately about the people of Halesowen and Rowley Regis and we will endeavour to help where possible.

In future we will be publishing information about the number of cases we are working on and those which have been resolved.

Promoting local businesses and jobs

Meeting Nick Edge of Thompson Friction Welding

In the tough economic times we now face, I intend to be a local champion, supporting local industries and jobs, and helping local people with their problems and concerns.

This is why I attended the MACH 2010 manufacturing conference recently at the NEC Arena in Birmingham. I was given a tour of the event and met with a number of key local figures, including Nick Edge, of Halesowen firm Thompson Friction Welding.

I am holding regular surgeries (twice a month) and my job club is being expanded to help more people in Halesowen and Rowley Regis back into work.

You can also play a big part in this. I want to meet anyone who can make a difference to the local community - be it through volunteering, investing or championing local causes - or indeed any way that you can.

If you have any questions or want to get involved in the local area, please complete out the form on this page.

The Justice Secretary yesterday announced proposals to stop holding cases at Halesowen Magistrates Court.

There will however be a consultation period until 15th September.

I am keen to hear your views on this, and will be sending out a questionnaire shortly. If you wish to find out more about the decision, please click here

My Maiden speech in the House of Commons

I recently gave my maiden speech in the House of Commons. To read a transcript of the speech, please click here. A video of the speech will be uploaded shortly, please click here for the videos page.
